

AMCHAM THAILAND

March 16, 2011

To Whom It May Concern,

Aaron Le Boutillier of LBG Le Boutillier Group was used to present and deliver a free session on women's self defense training for the American Chamber of Commerce.

The whole course was professionally delivered and well received from everyone within the group. His sense of humor and security tips given were certainly an added bonus to an already superb program.

Aaron also donated his time for free and all profits from both the course and the selling of his book were given to the Amcham charity fund.

I would highly recommend any organization to use Aaron and his company for this type of training.

Sincerely,

Executive Director
